WE NOMINATE

Oliver Strunk, 59-year old native of Ithaca, N. Y., and in his 24th year as a Princetonian, who over the past weekend was singled out for one of the highest honors which can be conferred upon a humanist-scholar —one of the 10 tax-exempt $10,000 awards conferred annually since 1958 by the American Council of Learned Societies in recognition of "distinguished achievement." Among the 1000's of Americans laboring in the vineyards of "humanism," Strunk (together with Otto E. Neugebauer, science historian at the Institute for Advanced Study) was placed in "winning nomination" by a nation-wide sampling of scholars aided by some 60 consultants representing all fields of knowledge.

Where past Princeton winners of these awards (Americo Castro, Robert R. Palmer, Walter T. Stace and Jacob Viner) have been drawn from such well-ploughed fields as modern literature, history, philosophy and economics, Strunk is a musicologist—a leading figure in music history and currently president of the growing American Musicological Society. A two-time winner of Guggenheim Fellowships, and a member of the Institute for Advanced Study in the early 1940's, Strunk probably knows more than any other living American about the history of early Christian music, and particularly the music of the Byzantine Empire.

Strunk's position in the world of music was made secure just about a decade ago when a fellow musicologist, based at one Princeton's sister universities, was given the opportunity of reviewing Strunk's definitive 919-page "Source Readings in Music History." Rather than contenting himself with comma-pecking, the critic concluded: "We might add that this work opens up a whole new world to the music lover and student . . . It makes fascinating, and absorbing reading. The entire musical fraternity (which should be joined by all music lovers) salutes Professor Strunk for a memorable work."

The son of one of the great English teachers of modern times, Cornell's William Strunk Jr., whose "Elements of Style" contributed immeasurably to "the cause of lucid English prose" and years back clung to a top rung on the ladder of non-fiction best-sellers for a period of months, Strunk studied at Cornell and the University of Berlin before joining the staff of the Library of Congress' Music Division in 1928. In 1934, following two years as assistant head of the division, he was named Division Chief, the position he was to relinquish in 1937 when he was called here to help pave the way for the establishment of the University's full-fledged Department of Music following World War II.

Strunk, the recipient of an honorary doctorate from the University of Rochester in 1936 at age 35, advanced rapidly through faculty ranks, becoming an associate professor shortly after V-J Day and a full professor in 1950. In 1954 Strunk, a prolific contributor to music journals, was among the finest eight teacher-scholars appointed to Princeton's Council of the Humanities which was brought into being as an integral part of one of the broadest attacks ever launched upon the problem of restoring the maligned humanities to their original place in the center of the academic stage.

For helping develop for the first time critical anthologies of music—comparable to familiar and indispensable forms in literature and history; for his deep concern for interpreting 'musical thought" over the centuries; for seeking to enable others to share his comprehensive picture of the wonders of music history; he is Town Topics' nominee for

THE LOOK OF PRINCETON

Year-End Index Published. The economic picture of a community is composed of many varying parts: the number of new cars its citizens buy, the dollars they tuck into a savings account; the number of new children in school, the pennies their shopping mothers put into parking meters.

TOWN TOPICS presents, on page 18 of this issue, its quarterly business ndex, showing in statistical form what the Princeton business scene looked like as the year ended. On this page, we show what 1960 looked like in comparison to 1959 (see box, below).

By now, it is almost a truism to say that Princeton is unique, but truisms have a way of being true and the statistics we present here seem to show that Princeton as a whole, has not suffered appreciably from the recession that plagues the rest of the country.

The United States Department of Labor, for example, released statistics this week that showed a 50 percent jump in the number of claims for unemployment benefits. Yet the figures for Princeton, as compiled by state officials, show quite a different picture. (Princeton is, of course, a white-collar town and the commuting executive, fired from his New York job, is not likely to file for unemployment compensation.)

A survey of 17 firms in the Princeton area shows an overall increase of 25 percent in the number of people employed. Generally speaking, the small electronics firms that are so numerous in Princeton reflect the boom and prosperity of the industry as a whole. One such firm in Princeton reports a staff increase of more than 300 percent. On the other hand, a long-established firm has reached a kind of plateau, and has the same number of employees it had a year ago.

New car sales have always been a key to the country's prosperity level and Princeton dealers report a whopping 72 percent increase in the 1960 fall quarter over the 1959 fall quarter, with a 10 percent increase in 1960 as a whole, compared to 1959. Here again, Princeton goes against the national current.

Borough Growing Smaller. In addition to the U.S. Census figures (see box), which show a ten-year population decrease for the Borough—in contrast to a burgeoning 91% increase in the Township—vital statistics for the Borough reflect an identical trend. Births to Borough residents are down 25 percent in the past year, deaths up 11 percent.

On the other hand, Township births remained virtually the same and deaths were down 12 percent. The obvious answer is hardly a matter of better health but simply that a greater percentage of Borough residents are in the higher age brackets.

School population figures tell the same story, with the Township's rate of increase much the faster. The current decade will by no means be at its halfway point when total Township population passes the Borough's to make Princeton history.

New housing starts, one of the surest ways of charting community growth, show an increase in the Borough in 1960 and a decrease in the Township. The Township figure is one aspect of an interesting development; according to a report just released by Joseph Shinn, building inspector for

PERSON TO PERSON

Cory Kammler

We read a quotation from John Wanamaker, the world-famous merchant, which will be of special interest to people in business or intending to go into business. He said, "If there is one enterprise on earth that a 'quitter' should leave severely alone it is advertising.

"To make a success of advertising one must be prepared to stick like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins it that he must spend money . . . lots of it.

"Somebody must tell him that he cannot reap results commensurate with his expenditure early in the game. Advertising does NOT JERK . . . IT PULLS. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady, until it exerts an irresistible power."

Of course, this is only one excerpt, for the lesson must also teach that advertising all by itself cannot make one succeed. The advertising must be truthful, and one must live up to the claims made in the advertising. Then, a person efficient in about a score of other capacities, may have a good chance of success.

We try awfully hard to please you with the highest quality and service in every department, so please, come see us soon!

the Township, fewer new houses are going up, but those that are being built are worth more.

In 1954, permits were issued for 260 new dwellings averaging $13,278, in 1960, comparable figures were 107 and $25,422. Part of the dollar increase is traceable to the rise in building costs and the decreased value of the dollar, of course, but the increase can also be traced to the kind of house now going up in the Township. Dwellings in the $75-$125,000 category are being built and apparently sold.

Incidentally, under the category "Value of Building Permits" in the page 18 table, readers will find a Borough increase of more than 3,000 percent. This figure reflects the permits issued for the University's new engineering quadrangle buildings.

Where Does It Go?. The state's division of employment security says that retail trade in New Jersey is "not brisk." And yet 18 new retail establishments opened in Princeton last year, in contrast to eight that closed their doors. Businessmen in town are cautiously optimistic — "I can't complain" is a frequent comment.

Parking meter receipts, one indication of prosperity, are up over last year, but December's receipts, were $950.14 less than November's because of the snow.

More money went into savings accounts, a shade less into checking accounts. Installment buying on a large scale is not a significant part of the Princeton retail scene, but loans made by Princeton lending institutions showed an 11 percent increase over 1959—much of it traceable, according to one observer, to new car purchases or home remodelling.

Where Does It Come From? One cliche about Princeton is that it's a wealthy town and it's certainly true that a community which sells $100,000 houses it not poor. Nevertheless, there is a broad group of middle-class workers who sustain and help to support the community's prosperity. The pay-scale of these people is an important aspect of life in Princeton because if it goes too low, it will drive them out of the area into more golden fields, and if it goes too high, it could put the town's economy out of joint.

In Princeton, a top-notch class A secretary averages $80 to $84 a week, with a top of $134 and a low of $63. This compares with a Mercer County average of $92. A class B secretary might expect an average salary of $70.

A clerk-typist averages $88 a week and sometimes climbs to $93. This is about the county average for this kind of job. Clerk-stenographers in Princeton receive a top salary of $103, but usually average $84, and secretary - stenographers receive a top of $114 and an average of $70. The county average is $74 for a grade-A secretary-steno, and $62 for grade B.

There are more opportunities for jobs in these fields than in almost any others at the present time, according to officials in the state division of employment security.

Figures can be dull and lifeless, but not when they reflect the life and growth of a community. In compiling these two sets of statistical summaries, TOWN TOPICS has been greatly assisted by many individuals and institutions without whose time and trouble the complete picture would not have been possible.

In the decade ahead, these reports will continue to be presented on a regular basis to chart the growth and economic progress of an intriguing community.

PERSONALITIES

Mrs. John D. Dilworth, 161 Hodge Road, who passed a notable milestone Saturday when she celebrated her 90th birthday. Born in Newcastle, Del., January 21, 1871, Mrs. Dilworth was the guest of honor at a family dinner of 28, next day was feted by more than 100 friends and neighbors at a reception at the home of her daughter, Miss Esther Dilworth, 73 Library Place.

Fred M. Blaicher, Carter Road, who makes time for one important community project after another while overseeing the myriad corporation activities of "the heart of Princeton—" Palmer Square and Princeton Municipal Improvement. Same week that he ended his term as president of the United Community Fund, which was able to report topping its quota for the first time in six years, he was elected to the presidency of the 300 - member Princeton Chamber of Commerce.

ROUND-UP

If the summer of 1960 will be remembered as one of the pleasantest in many years, so the winter of 1960-61 will go into history as one of the bitterest ..... last week's 11-inch snowfall raised the total for the season to 35 inches, and another 17 spread over the next two months will break the record of 51.7 set in 1957-58..... starting last Thursday, the temperature has not been above freezing at any time.... in outlying areas, a low of 12 below zero was recorded in Sunday's pre-dawn hours.

As the February deadline for establishment of 1961 tax rates nears, Township residents learned that their rateables had increased by $5,111,000 but that this figure was $1,700,000 less than last year.... Princeton's Borough's rateable increase was $367,000, a figure that would read $1,100,000 if the Borough assessed at 100 percent of true value as the Township does.

Tuesday is the deadline for dog license renewals, and the offices of both municipal clerks will be selling them like the proverbial hotcakes....possibly because of the snow, pet owners have been slower than usual in obtaining renewals, with a good 400 still to do so in the Borough....February 1 is also the deadline for quarterly tax payments.

A car belonging to Mrs. Beresford Smith, 67 Randell Road, was stolen from Palmer Square last week end found 24 hours later in Lancester, Pa....the right front fender had been damaged in a collision by the temporary "owner" who apparently was interested only in a ride to Lancaster, since he ignored a portable sewing machine and tape recorder in the car.

PUCF REACHES GOAL

Total of $234,015 Raised. The Princeton United Community Fund has raised $15 more than its 1960 goal of $234,000, it was reported by Clement V. Conole, campaign chairman, at the PUCF annual meeting Monday night at the Nassau Inn. Mr. Conole said that the $234,015 raised is an increase of 14 percent over the previous year's total of $204,100. The total number of contributors came to 7976, as compared to 7124 in 1959.

This is the first time since the United Fund was created in 1956 that the goal has been reached. The fund's predecessor, the Community Chest, organized in 1938, reached or topped its goal in 1941, 1948, 1951 and 1955, and missed by only $5 in 1952.

"It is most gratifying to all of us that we were all able to join together in attaining our goal," said Fred M. Blaicher, PUCF president, in his report. "The Board of Trustees can only say again how very grateful we are to the hundreds of workers and the thousands of contributors who made it possible for the first time in many years — this, our highest goal."

Mr. Blaicher said that the 1960 goal was set by the Budget Committee after careful comparative studies of the needs of the 14 member agencies, the Fund itself, and the four national organizations to which the PUCF contributes. Overall budget requests, he said, totalled approximately $270,000, but the committee felt that this would be too high a goal and settled on $234,000 as a compromise between the amount requested and the $204,000 raised in 1959.

Division Totals Listed. Division totals for the 1960 campaign were as follows: Research Division, Robert P. Fopino, chairman, $47,588 raised, an increase of $10,005, or 28 percent; Princeton University, Jeremiah Farrington, chairman, $22,738 raised, an increase of $3,294, or 17 percent.

Also, Special Gifts Division, Frank E. Taplin, chairman, $98,168 raised, an increase of $7,658, or 8.5 percent; Business Division, Jack Yeoman, chairman, $45,958 raised, an increase of $6,931, or 18 percent; and Neighborhood Division, Mrs. Percy Clark and Mrs. Alan Carrick, co-chairmen, $19,565 raised, an increase of $1,485, or 8 percent.

The selection of Ralph S. Mason as recipient of the Gerard B. Lambert Community Service Award was announced at Monday's meeting. Mr. Mason was PUCF president in 1959 and has served on the board of trustees and the campaign, by-laws and budget committees. He was the first president of the newly-organized Princeton Chamber of Commerce.

Paul E. Orr, Jr., was elected PUCF president for 1961. Other new officers are: John M. Reeder, first vice president; George J. Adriance, second vice president; Walter B. Jefferson, Jr., treasurer and John C. Yeoman, assistant treasurer. Robert V. Dilley will he campaign chairman, with Robert P. Popino as assistant chairman.

"THIS HEAVY WORK HAS TO BE DONE BY US MEN: Personally, I've always enjoyed the more vigorous winter sports, but it does seem this year that most of my leisure time has been filled with the onerous task of keeping my property cleared of all this vexatious snow. It has really become quite a burden." The householder is Foster Schoch, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoch, 159 Valley Road. (Staff Photo).

Honorary Trustees Named. B. Franklin Bunn and Thomas P. Cook were named honorary members of the board of trustees. Chosen as new members of the board were Mrs. Alan Carrick, Mrs. C. Du P. Donaldson, Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, George R. Griffing, Herbert W. Hobler, Miss Beatrice H. Miers and Dr. Glen R. Simmons. Re-elected to the board were Herbert S. Bailey, Harland W. Hoisington, Jr., Mr. Mason, Jean-Pierre Myer and Mrs. Leslie L. Vivian, Jr.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Lyman S. Ford, executive director of the United Community Funds and Councils of America. Invocation and benediction were by the Rev. Dr. Lester H. Clee, interim pastor of Second Presbyterian Church.

ADMINISTRATOR NAMED

Josapn Nini Appointed. Township Committee passed on Monday night an ordinance creating the post of Township Administrator and immediately adopted a resolution naming Township Clerk Joseph Nini to the newly-created post. Mr. Nini will serve from February 1 to December 31, 1961.

Only one person spoke in the public hearing that preceeded passage of the ordinance. Arthur Brokaw, 65 Woodside Lane, Borough engineer but Township resident asked how much the new administrative organization would cost, and how the various duties of the administrator would be defined.

Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman said that the Township planned to allocate $8,000 a year for the salary of an assistant clerk who would take over most of Mr. Nini's present bookkeeping and accounting duties. He also said that Mr. Nini, as administrator, would receive an increase in salary. He pointed out that the burdens of the clerk's office had grown so in recent years that an assistant would probably have been required regardless of the outcome of the new ordinance.

In answer to Mr. Brokaw's other question, Mr. Fairman said that Committee would prepare administrative regulations, and would block out areas of authority for the administrator. As examples of the administrator's work, he mentioned cooperation with police and engineering departments on intersections, negotiations with property owners on sewer studies and the acquisition of easements, liaison work with Planning, Health Zoning Boards, attendance at various state meetings whose agenda are of interest to the Township and so on. All his activities will be designed to relieve Committee of administrative detail so that Committee members will have more time to concentrate on policy.

Mayor Fairman said that, although he could not commit future Committees, it was possible that the post of administrator might develop to such an extent that some future Committee would suggest a public referendum on the council-manager form of government.

"This is one phase short of the manager form," Mayor Fairman observed. He also said that many communities in the state are beginning to adopt the administrator idea, but that the Township had spelled out the functions of the new official much more specifically than most other municipalities.

BUDGET SET FOR VOTE

Adopted by School Board. The proposed budget for the school year 1961-62 was officially adopted by Princeton Borough Board of Education after an uneventful public hearing Tuesday night. The budget, which calls for a total of $1,581,268, an increase of almost five-percent over the current school year, is expected to boost the local tax rate for school purposes by 12 points.

The budget will come before the public for approval at the school election scheduled for 5 until 9 p.m. on Tuesday.

Unanimous Vote

Snow?
No!
—IVY NUFF

After two big ones, winter still had almost two months to go. Despite the unanimous vote, it could happen here.

Even if snow is not a part of the immediate future, the cold is. Early-morning readings below zero are frequent in outlying areas, and they'll be on the thermometer at least through Friday.

Thereafter, a gradually warming trend. Maybe all the way up to freezing.

February 14. New school board members will also be elected that day. The reorganization and business meeting of the board will be held Monday, February 20.

In the regular meeting which followed Tuesday's public hearing, the board: 1) approved three appointments and three resignations; 2) voted to install a plaque honoring Irving Mershon in a music room of the high school; 3) granted permission to the high school PTA to sponsor a party in the gymnasium from midnight to 4 p.m. following the Senior Prom, and 4) voted to have the freshman athletic field resurfaced.

The appointments were as follows: Mrs. Suzanne B. Graham as an English teacher in Princeton High School beginning February 1, to replace Mrs. Wilma Gannon, who is taking a maternity leave of absence; Miss Jessie Goyette as a teacher at the Nassau Street School beginning February 1, to replace Mrs. Ann Baldwin Taylor; and Mrs. Nancy E. Arcamone as a home economics teacher at the high school, replacing Mrs. Verna R. Green, who died suddenly January 1. The resignation of Mrs. Frank P. Inscho as secretary in the high school guidance department was also accepted.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

By Princeton Kiwanis. Harold E. Miller was installed Saturday as president of the Princeton Kiwanis Club for 1961 at an Inaugural Ball in the Nassau Inn. New Jersey District Governor Leon McKelvey officiated at the installation of officers.

Other new officers include Arnold J. Hirsch, first vice-president; Lewis A. Bain, second vice-president; and George J. Adriance, treasurer. The new second vice-president was accorded another honor at the inaugural affair when he was named Kiwanian of the Year by the Princeton group. Mr. Bain, whose work this year on behalf of the Kiwanis Film-Lecture Series produced over $4000 in charity revenue, is associated with the Western Electric Company.

The seven-member Board of Directors was also installed at the meeting. New members of the Board are: Edmond V. Hally, Paul R. Kline, William F. MacCalmont, Ralph L. Lenhart, Will S. Patee, Richard Chorlton and Edward E. Farone.

Retiring President Stephen Hritz was honored by the presentation of the Past President's Pin and Plaque, and he was the subject of a skit entitled "This is Your Life, Steve Hritz." Perfect attendance awards were also presented at the year-end meeting.

BUILDING APPROVED

By Township Board. The Township Zoning Board gave its approval Monday night to Rocky Hill Realty Company for the construction of a brick office building on Harrison Street. The structure, to be built near the spot where Harrison and Ewing come together, will be erected as an office building for the New Jersey Bankers Association.

THE KING AND THE FOOL: Ellis Rabb (left) will play the title role in "King Lear," the first offering in APA's Shakespeare series, with Tucker Ashworth (right) taking the part of The Fool. Directed by Stephen Porter, the tragedy will open next Thursday with a 2 p.m. matinee, and is slated for seven additional performances during the eight-week season.

News Of The THEATRES

"LEAR" HERE

Opens Friday, Feb. 2. The first play in the Shakespeare series that is being presented this winter in McCarter Theatre by the Association of Producing Artists is "King Lear," which will open next Friday, February 3, with an early curtain at 6 p.m. "Lear" will be given again by the repertory company on February 4, 10, 18 and 18 at 8 p.m., Sunday, February 26 at 3 p.m. and March 2 and 11 at 8 p.m.

The cast of the APA production will include several actors who appeared last fall in McCarter and several newcomers. Nearly all the members of the company have appeared in Shakespeare festivals in various parts of the country. Here in Princeton, they will act under the direction of Stephen Porter.

Boy "Extras" Needed

Four energetic boys in the 10 to 12 age bracket are wanted by Association of Producing Artists for walk-on parts in "Midsummer Night's Dream," which will open February 9.

"Angelic types need not apply," according to a McCarter representative. Those fulfilling the above requirements are invited to call the McCarter box office (WA 1-8700).

Ellis Rabb, artistic director of APA, will portray Lear. His performance of this role four years ago at the Antioch Festival was hailed by critics as a definitive one. Henry Hews, writing in "The Saturday Review," said that the performance had "all the technical finish, brilliance and intelligence of a Sir John Gielgud."

Others in the cast will be Jacqueline Brookes as Goneril; Eulalie Noble as Regan and Eve Roberts as Cordelia. Tucker Ashworth will play the Fool to Rabb's Lear as he did at Antioch. David Hooks will be seen as Kent. Thayer David and Richard Easton will return to Princeton as Gloucester and Edgar.

"PRISONERS" TO OPEN

Trinity Couples Sponsor. "A Sleep of Prisoners" by Christopher Fry will be presented in the nave of Trinity Church this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Stuart Duncan is the producer, with Grenville Cuyler serving as director. Trinity Couples is the sponsoring group.

The roles of the four soldiers will be played by Victor Preller, John Miller, Munroe Wade and John Hamel. The four are imprisoned in a church during World War II.

On the production staff are Jean Stratton, stage manager; Betty Myers, costumes and settings; Shirley Rennie, Lewis Morton, Ralph Kenzle, Robert Wadsworth and Montgomery Davis, lights; Cintra Hu-

DANCER TO APPEAR

In Lecture - Demonstration. Under the auspices of the Princeton Ballet Society, Peter F. White of the Royal Ballet Company in England will give a lecture-demonstration in Murray Theatre this Saturday at 4 p.m. A character dancer, Mr. White appeared in "Sleeping Beauty," given Wednesday in Philadelphia.

Mr. White has come to Princeton for the Ballet Society on three previous occasions. The Saturday appearance will be open to the public without charge, with a section reserved for classes of the Ballet Society.

THE PLAYHOUSE

CAN-CAN (January 25-February 7) has all the ingredients of an excellent movie except excellence. The score is by Cole Porter (and it includes several numbers from other than "Can-Can"), the orchestrations are by Nelson Riddle, and the cast includes Frank Sinatra, Shirley MacLaine, Maurice Chevalier, Louis Jourdan and Juliet Prowse. Moreover, it only runs 130 minutes (that's practically a short subject these days) and the color photography of Paris is superb.

Still, it's a bore. Miss MacLaine dances with all the grace of an uncoordinated chimpanzee and beheves so coyly she makes June Allyson look like a cynic. Sinatra acts as if he were doing the late show at the Sands. The script is slow-moving and unfunny, and the music is hurt by some aberrations on the part of Riddle, notably the decision to have Sinatra sing "It's All Right With Me" at dirge tempo.

The plot forces Miss MacLaine to pretend she owns a can-can cafe, and Sinatra to be a French lawyer who protects her from the police. When an eager young prosecutor (Jourdan) convinces a kindly old judge (Chevalier) that the place must be raided, everybody falls in love with everybody else and all ennui breaks out. At the end, Sinatra is married to Miss MacLaine.

The only conceivable reasons for seeing the film are: 1) Sinatra's singing, which is still the best despite bad arrangements and creeping middle-age-larynx; 2) Miss Prowse's dancing, which is graceful and pleasant, and 3) the scenes of Paris, which is prettier than, say, West Trenton.

THE GARDEN

The Cranes Are Flying (January 24-28), the first Soviet film exhibited in this country under the cultural exchange program, is a sober, searching portrayal of the effects of love and war. It won first prize at Cannes last year.

Tatyana Samoiolova and Alexei Batalov are the stars. The story opens with the invasion of Russia by Germany, and continues through the parting of the lovers. Miss Samoiolova's ill-starred marriage to Batalov's cousin, and her reaction to news of Batalov's death. It is thoroughly convincing throughout, despite barely adequate English subtitles. The tenor of the film is distinctly anti-war, but propaganda is rarely allowed to interfere with the exploration of human nature. Recommended.

Tales of Hoffman (January 30), by Offenbach, is an interesting attempt to wed opera and ballet. The film, produced in 1952, is in color and stars Moira Shearer, Leonide Massine, Robert Helpmann and Robert Rounseville. The decor is lavish.

Picnic on the Grass (January 31-February 4) is the latest effort, in French with English titles, of Jean Renoir, France's top director, and son, we believe, of the painter. It is handled with grace and precision, but the subject matter is so silly that the attempt to build anything lasting on it was foredoomed.

The stars are Paul Meurise, Ingrid Nordine and Catherine Rouvel. Meurise is a scientist specializing in artificial insemination experiments, Miss Nordine is his wife, and Miss Rouvel is the nubile peasant girl who volunteers for the experiments and becomes romantically entangled with the good doctor. That is the plot, take it or leave it. There's a lot of good humor and several inspired situations along the way, but you'll need a high tolerance for nonsense to enjoy it. The film is in color.

THREE TO MAKE READY...

And Four to Go! In a state of hypnosis induced by the purchase of a hibiscus pink sheath, we stopped at Travelex the travel agency at 195 Nassau, to see about that other, sunnier Nassau. We spent half an hour in a deck chair listening to tales of the South Pacific and trying to decide just where to spend both time and money.

Travelex suggests, for the immediate vacationer, a 17-day excursion to Europe at reduced rates. For example, you can go to Paris (with various stop-overs) for $398, jet, which contrasts with the regular first-class jet fare of $939 and the usual economy jet fare of $525. If you want your local point to be Stuttgart, the fare would be $425 instead of $389, and so it goes.

Travelex thinks it's a good idea to buy yourself a car by this excursion method. The travel agency will arrange to have various cars ready for you to inspect in a Paris or Amsterdam show-room.

You pick out your car there and qualify thereby for the $500 duty exemption. If you order a specific car from abroad and make all the arrangements for its purchase here, you disqualify yourself from this $500 exemption.

So, by following Travelex' method, one member of the family can actually go abroad free, because the $500 saved on the car is just about the amount of one fare. So spring this one on daddy when he comes home tonight.

Incidentally, you Cinderellas who take this 17-day trip must be home by March 17 or — well, we don't know what the "or else" is, but March 31 is the back-home deadline.

Other economy fares offered by various airlines will take you deep into the Caribbean for the same money that usually takes you only as far as San Juan. For the fare you'd pay for the usual flight to Antigua, you can go as far as Port of Spain, just to give one example. The agency also points out that Caribbean vacation spots are delightful for most of the year.

By no means are they exclusively winter resorts. Aruba, Curacao, Curacao, Port of Spain, San Juan—all are ready to welcome visitors any time of the year.

This spring, from May 28 to June 7, Rotary will hold its International In Tokyo, and Travelex suggests that you take advantage of this period, if you are a member, to join one of the tours that are being offered in conjunction with the convention. You may visit Hawaii, Taipei, Hong Kong, Macao and Thailand are on these various itineraries. Some tours lead up to the convention, some begin the day the International ends.

We have been surprised to discover, in this jet age we live in, that many people do not realize what a travel agency is and what it can do for the traveler. There is no charge for using an agency such as Travelex.

The agency gets its fees from airlines, hotels and steamship lines and you ride free, so to speak. The agency will put together any kind of business or pleasure trip you want, spending an hour or several days on arrangements.

Transportation, car rentals, hotel accommodations, small "orienting" sight-seeing trips to give you the lay of the land, and many other services can be arranged by a travel agent at much less expense than you could arrange them yourself.

A final thought: Most people don't know that you can live abundantly for only $20 a day on a short economy winter cruise that provides you with shopping excursions at various ports of call, swimming pools on board ship, visits to other cruise ships and so on. There's a little Norwegian ship only about 20,000 tons, that leaves every Friday for Nassau. Come see us off. We'll be wearing a hibiscus pink sheath.

SILK FOR JERSEY

Or Elsewhere. Silk and jersey are two favorite fabrics at The French Shop this late winter. Silk has been smeared with royal and emerald roses in finger-paint design, and then arranged in artful folds to frame a face and drape a hip-line. A silk satin has a straight skirt with a soft fold at the left hip. The print on this one is powder blue and green.

The jerseys, made for travel, are solid or punctuated with big dots. One has navy and powder blue coin dots, a gentle collar and small pleats around the skirt. Its companion has tangerine dots, and one model displays a matching sweater with the dots cut out and appliqued on its front.

Solid tangerine jersey is squared off with white grosgrain ribbon in straight lines around the neckline. Comes in powder, too. Another good traveler is the knit by Scuderi of Italy, fashioned with small

Got a Year and a Half?

We are still glassy-eyed at the thought of Travelex' favorite vacation excursion, and we are all ready to embark upon it, except for one small detail.

This magnificent flight from reality is a cruise on the wind-jammer "Polynesia," with Captain Mike Burka at the wheel. You go into orbit this summer and come back to earth a full 18 months late—just about Christmas time, 1962.

Room for about 35 on this 151-foot cruiser, and you sign on as a regular member of the crew after paying your fare. In the course of the 18 months, the "Polynesia" will stop at all kinds of ports the tourists never hear of, and at regular ports of call as well.

Can you imagine a more splendid graduation present, or a nicer way for a young couple to wind up several arduous years of graduate study? We'd go ourselves except for that small detail we mention above: so who's got a year and a half?

ARTIST TRIUMPHS

Over Poor Programming. Nowadays it is the fashion among concertgoers to be more concerned with performers and interpretations than with the music performed — a vogue to which this reviewer has been, in principle, opposed. But there are concerts where even so stubborn a critic as this one is overwhelmed by the abilities of a performing artist, regardless of what that artist may perform. Such a concert was Adele Addison's vocal recital at McCarter Theatre Monday night.

The music itself was far from prepossessing. In fact the most memorable piece of music Mozart's magnificent concert aria "Ch'io mi scordi di te?" (K. 505), was the least impressive part of the evening inasmuch as Miss Addison's voice, a naturally heavy voice, had not warmed up sufficiently to permit the flexibility and agility the work demands. But for the remainder of the recital, one could only sit and listen in sheer awe.

The "Ariettes Oubliees" of Debussy, the songs of Richard Strauss (of which Miss Addison sang three), the four late romantic songs of Felix Wolfes (much influenced in style by Hugo Wolf) are all period pieces. So too were Charles Ives' and Aaron Copland's examples of Americana.

Yet such are Miss Addison's abilities — and interpretive insights — that she brought each of these into life with a vivid focus one could scarcely have imagined possible. Even Hindemith's somewhat shallow "La Belle Dame sans Merci" and two inconsequential encores (Daniel Pinkham's "Sing Aeeeeehly of Love" and Coleridge Taylor Perkinson's "A Child's Grace") became objects of intense interest to the audience under Miss Addison's pureness. And in one encore, the anonymous Elizabethan "Corpus Sleeped" the listener was treated to that special rarity: the fusion of modern vocal style with a perfect grasp of the compositional and performance styles of a far earlier period.

Miss Addison's ornamental additions and phrasing were in perfect taste. This was a memorable projection of a truly beautiful lyric.

Adele Addison is a near-perfect artist, and gave the Princeton audience her very best effort. She has a superb vocal instrument: powerful, rich, yet controlled and capable of the most infinitesimal pianissimo. Her intonation and enunciation are virtually flawless.

Furthermore, she has that indispensable asset of the great vocal artist — a sense of style. In the face of all this, what more can be said?

WILL DIRECT MOTHERS' MARCH: Chairman of the annual Mothers' March for the benefit of the March of Dimes is Mrs. Phillip J. Wainford, holding sign with Malcolm Magner who is directing the overall Princeton drive. Coordinators of the area captains for the March, scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday, are Mrs. Ernest Steiger (left) and Mrs. G. Hutton Hughes. (Staff Photo).

DOCTOR NAMED CHAIRMAN Of New Hope Music Group. Dr. Frank P. Spitzer, psychiatrist at the Carrier Clinic, Belle Mead and a resident of New Hope, Pa., has been appointed chairman of the newly-established Music Committee of the New Hope Historical Society.

Since coming to the Clinic in 1959, Dr. Spitzer has greatly assisted the New Hope Chamber Music Series which will be a regular fall activity of the Historical Society. Formerly, he was an associate of Dr. Kenneth Appel of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School and the Institute of Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia.

ribbon stripes and designed with short sleeves and a tie waistline. Comes in mint green, lilac or blue at $34.95.

Junior sizes travel in greco and white striped jersey with grosgrain belt, gathered skirt, wide boat neckline and short raglan sleeves. There's a cotton boucle for travel, too.

The junior rack at the French Shop has a streak of charcoal. It's covered at the top with a cotton jacket of rust, taupe, gold and beige circles outlined with charcoal. There's a big squashed handbag to match. The dress, by the way, has very fine spaghetti straps.

Another junior is a fresh-faced red bandanna print with shiny black belt, cap sleeves, full skirt and a big grin.

NEED A WALL?

Cabinetmaker Will Provide. People are always coming to Nassau Interiors with problems: they need a room divider, a storage wall, a bank of chests under a row of windows. You know how it is.

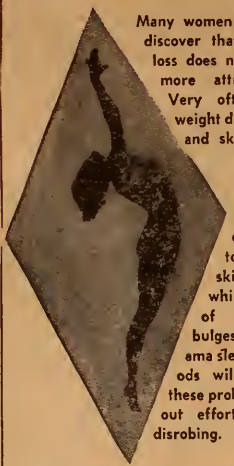
The shop now has the services of an excellent Princeton cabinetmaker named Cosmo Celli who can make anything in the world out of any kind of wood you can name. Probably even toothpicks.

Mr. Celli has been in this country for eight years, and during most of that time, he has been with a millwork company in Trenton. He was trained in woodworking in the School of Art, Isernia, Italy, and in another school of art in Naples. While he was still in Italy, he made many small wood - carvings (nutcrackers, fruit bowls and the like), did elaborate inlay work and made furniture. He won awards for his carvings, by the way.

For Nassau Interiors, Mr. Celli will do architectural mill-work for your home or office: a graceful divider to set off living-room from study corner, or a massive conference table for an executive suits.

He can reproduce anything made of wood, Nassau Interiors says, and would probably be happy to tackle a grandfather's clock or a Chippendale chair. The store feels that his training as an artist in Italy, and as a practical craftsman in Trenton, combine to make him an exceptional craftsman.

Diet is not the entire answer



Many women on rigid diets discover that mere weight loss does not guarantee a more attractive figure. Very often as excess weight drops away, body and skin become unattractively loose and flabby. Without a method of firming and toning sagging skin and muscles, while dieting, many of the unsightly bulges remain. Figurama slenderizing methods will help control these problem areas without effort and without disrobing.

Poll Tax in Princetoo?

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Did you ever hear of a "poll" tax for each year that one lives in Princeton? Apparently, the Borough tax assessor's office puns a transient tax of about $15 per year on renters for county, local and local school needs.

I have no quarrel with the tax; but I do feel that the assessor's method of collecting the tax leaves something to be desired. I know that he took my name off the November voting list.

Having registered for the first time in Princeton, I was assured by a committeewoman that this kind of thing did not happen in Princeton any more. Many people who do not vote have heard of this tax; and I am positive that most aliens and non-voters have not been notified to contribute their share.

Is there no other method to assess transients? This item is just one more excuse for new transients not to vote. How about it, new voters, did you just receive a transient tax?

KENNETH E. VAN RIPER, Jr.
84 Maple Street

(Editor's Note: Borough clerk Robert Mooney says that Mr. Van Riper is referring to the Borough's property tax. This tax has nothing to do with voter registration.

The assessor compiles his list by going from house to house and recording the names of new residents of the Borough, or picking up lists of names from real estate agents. He does not see the voter registration lists at all and has no power to remove a name from them; in fact, Mr. Mooney refers to the voting lists and the assessor's lists as "completely divorced" from each other. According to County records, Mr. Van Riper has not been a registered voter since 1958 at the latest.)

Dean Brown for Governor.

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

In all of the political palaverline among both Democrats and Republicans, neither of whom can seem to find a strong and agreeable gubernatorial candidate, I wonder if anyone has dared to take a leaf from local history (Woodrow Wilson) and look for a man of such stature that he transcends party lines?

The man that I have in mind is Dean J. Douglas Brown of Princeton University, whose excellent combination of abilities and experience qualify him as a senior statesman without portfolio. Why not a mandate from the people of vision in both parties?

FRANCES W. SAUNDERS
(Mrs. David Saunders)

This was the second time that Rocky Hill Realty had presented its plans to the Board. It was turned down the first time.

In its new presentation, the company told the Board that it had moved the building to a point 100 feet from Harrison, instead of the 70 feet shown in the first plans. Variances were granted by the Board on distance from lot line (17 feet instead of the required 150) and on lot size (about one acre instead of five).

The Colonial building is approximately the size of a large ranch house. It is 103 feet long and 45 feet wide, or about 4,000 square feet. Parking for 25 cars has been provided in the rear. The property is bounded in three sides by Research Park.

REGISTRATION CONTINUES

For Princeton Adult School. Owing to the snowstorm on January 19, the final date for registration with the Princeton Adult School, mail registration for classes in the program will be continued this week. Mail applications should be sent to Box 701, Princeton. In-person registration will be possible this Thursday from 4-6 and from 8-10 p.m. in the Princeton High School Cafeteria. There will be no charge for late registrations.

Because of the loss of a day in the registration process and because of small enrollments, the following classes have been dropped: Rare and Little Known Birds of Princeton, Tole Painting, Sewing, Beginners and Intermediate Bridge, and the Mixed Chorus. Belated registration resulted in the deletion of some courses, and the Adult School Committee has stated its hope that, when future curricula are published, those interested will make their desires known as early as possible.

YWCA TO MEET

For Dinner and Play. The annual meeting of the YWCA will take place Monday at the Avalon Place headquarters, beginning at 6 p.m. Dinner will be served at 6:30, and the "Palmer Squares" will provide music during the meal.

The membership meeting, to start at 7:45, will be opened by Mrs. J. Lowrie McLarty, former Princeton YW president. A Long Island resident since last year, she is nominee to the national board of the Y, and will attend the national convention in Denver this May.

Mrs. Betty Fussell will play the leading role in "Who Knows Mrs. Powers?" a production of the American Theatre Wing. The YW staff will take the supporting parts. All those interested in attending the dinner and meeting, including non-Y members, are invited.

"GO" CHAMPIONSHIP SET

For Saturday Morning. The New Jersey Go championship will be decided this Saturday in Princeton University's Fine hall when Professor Ralph Fox of the Princeton Mathematics Department defends his title against all comers.

The games are scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. The tournament will be sponsored by the American Go Association. Spectators are welcome.

SKIRTING THE ISSUE: Among the varying opinions over the height of the hemline, there are few ayes for the knees, a portion of the anatomy that most women consider "rather ugly." For comments on the discord among Paris designers, who want it up; matrons, who want it somewhere in between, see below. (Staff Photo.)

Question of the Week

Question: Are you in favor of Paris fashion designers raising the hemline again?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Mrs. David Saunders, 447 Walnut Lane, housewife: No, there wouldn't be anything left of the skirts. I don't think enough women have legs that are that beautiful. I think certain physical features of women can be enhanced by semi-coverage but if this is taken away, the effect is lost. I believe skirts above the knee are a little blatant, particularly for young matrons.

William Gould, 44 Wiggins Street, graduate student of mathematics: I don't care one way or the other. It is just one of the things I'm not particularly interested in.

Miss Carole Loesby, Westminster Choir College, student: No, I'm certainly not—and this is as far as I want to go on this subject.

Mrs. Sarah Luth, Princeton-Lawrenceville Road, housewife: Sure, I think it's great. I think the people who wear the latest designs are young and attractive; they work at it and I think it's nice. I think women have attractive legs.

Mrs. James Faus, Cherry Hill Road, housewife: I think you should wear the hemline where it is most attractive to you, regardless of what the designers' opinions may be.

Miss Kerstie Alm, 34 Vandeventer Avenue, secretary: I'm not against it if the woman has good-looking legs, but if a big girl with stocky legs walks around in Brigitte Bardot fashion, I'm against it. If the skirts are going up, everybody has to sit down and hem up their dresses and everybody might not have time to do that. I'd just as soon have them stay just below the knee.

Mrs. Einar Hinnov, 35 Linden Lane, housewife: No, I think most women's knees aren't very attractive. And if they are attractive, they would look better in shorts.

Mrs. William Field, Broadripple Drive, housewife: I guess it depends on how attractive your legs are. I think they can go too far. If you sit down and it's kind of high, your garters will show and that wouldn't look very nice.

Miss Jean Goldberger, Westfield, secretary for Van Nostrand Co.: Just below the knee is as far as I think it should go. The knee isn't that nice to look at, to begin with; it isn't the nicest part to be seen.

Ernest Jager, Tenacre Foundation, The Great Road, nursing student: I think they should raise them in the summer and lower them in the winter. Let the women keep their knees warm. I don't believe that fashion in women's clothes has been very practical. It hasn't been practical in making women more comfortable in their clothes; they make changes only to sell their goods every year.

Mrs. Robert Hamer, 45 Moren Avenue, housewife: No, I think it is short enough. In fact, it could come down a little bit even now; it's just too high. It is all right for the teen - agers but enough is enough.

Miss Pat Watson, Ivy Lane, mother's helper: There isn't enough of a shortage of material to force them to cut skirts shorter. It would be indecent if they were made any shorter than they are now.

Miss Gillian Richardson, 44 Vandeventer Avenue, research aide for Princeton University: I think the highest it should ever go is just below the knee. I think everybody's knees are rather ugly. If the hemline stops just above the knee, it emphasizes it. It's like Bermuda shorts with the same unhappy effect.

Mrs. Paul Mott, Maple Avenue, Lawrenceville, typist: I wouldn't want to see them raised above the knee. I don't think a very short skirt is nearly as attractive as one just below the knee.

Miss Sharon Lowing, Freehold, financial analyst for Management Planning, Inc.; No, I'm definitely not. I think they are short enough now to be attractive.

Miss Helen Seller, 434 Walnut Lane, owner of The Joen Shop: No, I think hems are short enough already. Straight skirts, particularly, should be a little longer for comfort when sitting. Paris designers, or any designers, notwithstanding, each individual should pick a length becoming and comfortable to her and wear that length.

DODCO GETS COMPUTER

It's Easier, Smaller. A small, high-speed computer, slightly larger than an office desk, but capable of performing calculations equalled only by the largest computation systems, has been delivered to DODCO, Inc., the aero-space research organization located at 55 State Road.

The computer, an IBM 1620, will be used to investigate flight and control problems of high performance missiles, satellites and winged re-entry vehicles. Its speed is such that calculations which once took weeks to finish can now be completed in hours. It replaces two earlier model electronic computers which DODCO has been using since 1958.

DODCO's work with winged re-entry vehicles is part of the Air Force's "Dynasoar" project. It is "Dynasoar's" aim to place a man in orbit in a fully controllable glider which can land at any point on the earth's surface.

This vehicle, which may in its final design resemble a delta-winged jet fighter, will be launched into orbit by a booster rocket. It will then circle the earth as a satellite until its speed reduced by a forward firing retro-rocket, it descends into the thin air of the upper atmosphere to be further decelerated.

During the past year, DODCO has been developing control techniques to prevent the vehicle from plunging into the lower atmosphere and being destroyed like a meteor by the heat of atmospheric friction, and with methods to permit the craft to land safely at a previously selected field.

Numerous simulated flights have been conducted with earlier computers, each test involving tens of millions of individual numerical operations. The new computation will be used for similar tests.

ANALYZER PASSES TEST

Gulton Equipment Used. The Ortholog analyzer, developed by Gulton Industries' Ortholog Division in Princeton Junction, was used recently in a successful test flight made from White Sands Missile Range, N. M., according to an announcement from Arthur S. Westneat, Jr., manager of the Princeton Junction Division.

The Ortholog analyzer analyzed five channels of wide-band data during missile flight, putting the data into final reduced form while the flight was in progress. Until now, such data has not been available for many days after completion of a missile flight. The analyzer functioned accurately and with high reliability during the test flight, Mr. Westneat said.

The equipment permits a thousand-times reduction in telemetering channel capacity, saving considerably on the amount of power required to transmit information to the ground. The analyzer is one of a variety of vibration and acoustic analyzers designed and manufactured by Ortholog.

NEW DIRECTORIES DUE

For Bell Telephone Co. Because of the continued rapid expansion of the Delaware Valley area, the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. has announced that two separate directories have been established. They are the "Suburban Trenton" and "Trenton" directories.

Distribution of the new suburban directory will begin on February 7. In a makeup change, the new book will list alphabetically numbers of all customers in the CLearwater 9, EXport 5-7, HIghstown 8, HOpewell 6, PEnnington 7, SWinburne 8, TWinoaks 6 and WAlnut 1-4 telephone exchanges in the suburban Trenton area. These customers were previously listed by town headings in the second section of last year's Mercer County and Vicinity Directory.

The telephone company is currently distributing its new "Trenton" directory which lists customers in Trenton and the adjacent exchanges of Bordentown, Mercerville and Ewing. Formerly, most of these had been entered in Section One of the Mercer County Book.

In another change, the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania will deliver its own directories in the Morrisville, Yardley and New Hope sections of Pennsylvania. As a result, the listings in those areas will not be included in either of the two new directories.

The two new alphabetical directories will have dual distribution in most exchanges formerly covered by the Mercer County book, the company said. Adjacent area books will be available on request to those who want them.

The telephone company plans to deliver 39,788 "Suburban Trenton" directories. The new book, which has a picture of Nassau Hall featured on its cover, will contain 25,290 alphabetical listings of customers.

Princeton Nursery School on Leigh Avenue to serve as one of its case studies in a survey the magazine is making of various types of educational facilities. Mrs. Roland T. Ely cited this tribute to the school in her annual report, released this week.

Mrs. Ely is retiring as president of the school. She will be succeeded by Mrs. Hibben Ziesing. Other new officers are Mrs. Coleman Donaldson, vice-president; Mrs. Albert Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. Pater Lauch, III, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Everett O. Jones, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Frank Mountcastle, secretary.

New trustees are Mrs. Moore Gates, Jr., Mrs. Ray Starbuck, Mrs. J. W. Ward, Mrs. R. H. Carter, Mrs. Floyd J. Campbell, Mrs. Robert Shaw, Mrs. A. C. Reves Hicks and Mrs. Mountcastle.

The report says that attendance at the school reached a record level, with much less illness than in former years. There was a record number of in-training students and observers from Miss Fine's School, Trenton State Teachers College and Princeton High School, according to Mrs. Ely.

MERCHANTS AID AUCTION

Donate to Smith Club Event. More than 70 Princeton merchants are among those donating items to the 12th annual auction of the Smith College Club of Princeton, to be held this Saturday in Miss Fine's School gym, beginning at 10 a.m. Among donations from merchants are a beautiful Karastan rug, a certificate for a pair of shoes, sweaters, blouses, electric appliances, toys, and two books of tickets to the Shakespeare series beginning next month at McCarter Theatre.

Proceeds of the auction will go to provide scholarships to Smith College for girls from this area. Money raised in last year's auction enabled the Smith Club to provide a full tuition scholarship for Miss Joyce Washburn of Pennington who entered Smith this fall.

Many unusual items donated by members and friends of the club will also be up for bids at the auction. Among them will be two 17th century French chairs, an upholstered armchair, an antique shaving stand with brass candle holders on either side of the mirror, a set of bone-handled silver knives and a sterling cigarette set, as well as many household items

Lester M. Sistoff of Trenton will again be auctioneer. Besides the auction proper there will be sales of baked goods, casseroles, sandwiches and small gifts. Winner of the tour to Bermuda will be announced at 3 p.m.

Development Fund Booth. Material regarding the Smith College Development Fund program will be on display at a special information booth at the auction. The booth will feature pictures and charts illustrating the program, which seeks $10 million in capital gifts by June, 1962, and has already raised $5 million.

Mrs. James S. Hill is general chairman of this year's auction. Assistant chairman and head of the telephone committee is Mrs. C. Welles Fendrich.

AWARDS PRESENTED

To Cub Pack 77 Members. Cubs of Dens 1, 4, and 6 of Cub Pack 77, sponsored by the Princeton Township Parent-Teacher's Association, were presented awards by Cubmaster Stanley Wells at a pack meeting in the Valley Road School auditorium.

Those receiving awards included: William Alston, Alex Donald and Donald Quick, lion badge; Kenneth Mink and Jay Seitz, wolf badge; Steven Fishbein, service star. Also, Simeon Moss, Kenneth Klothen, and Marc Darrow, denner badge; and Ricky Silverman, assistant denner badge.

PROFESSOR CHOSEN

For Princeton UN Post. Dr. Stephen Vuglen, associate professor at Rider College, has been elected organizational chairman of the Princeton Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations. The first meeting of the new chapter was held this week under the supervision of representatives from the state branch.

Dr. James MacCalmont, president of Westminster Choir College and chairman of the Citizens Committee for United Nations Week, has announced that the summary report of the Princeton Peace Workship is now available at the Princeton Public Library.

Obituaries

Dr. Donald B. Aldrich, 68, former Dean of the University Chapel and former charter trustee of the University, died January 18 in the Cape Cod Hospital, Hyannis Port, Mass. He served as Dean of the Chapel from 1947 to 1955, and as trustee from 1927 to 1947. Since 1955, he had lived in Dennis, Mass.

A veteran of both World Wars, he was a graduate of Dartmouth College and the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge. During World War II, Dr. Aldrich was the first chaplain of the Amphibious Force at Bainbridge, Md., and later served in the Pacific as assistant to the Fleet Captain on Admiral Chester W. Nimitz' staff.

In the 1920's he was a member of the staff of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Boston, and rector of the Church of the Ascension in New York City. He was Bishop Coadjutor of Michigan from 1945 to 1946, when he resigned for reasons of health.

For several years he was chairman of the Church Congress, an organization devoted to the free discussion of social, liturgical and industrial questions; and was a member of the Commission on Worship of the Federal Council of Churches and the New York Academy of Medicine Committee on Medicine and the Changing Order.

Dr. Aldrich was co-author, with William O. Stevens, of the "Golden Book of Prayer," and was a trustee of Barnard College and the Wooster School in Danbury, Conn. He held a D.D. degree from Dartmouth, and an L.H.D. from Kenyon College.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Frances Learned Aldrich, and a daughter, Mrs. John D. Verdery of Danbury. The funeral was held in St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Barnstable, Mass., with Dr. Theodore Ferris, director of Trinity Church, Boston, officiating.

Miss Emily C. Maier, 68, who lived with her niece, Mrs. William McKinley of Crusher Road, Hopewell, died January 18 in Mercer Hospital, Trenton. A native of Newark, she was a Long Island resident until two months ago.

In addition to Mrs. McKinley, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Alfred Wunner of Secaucus; and a brother, Frederick C. Maier of Lexington, N. C. The Rev. Ellsworth D. Stone of St. James Episcopal Church officiated at the funeral, held in Trenton. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Edward N. Moyer, 77, of 40 North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, died January 18 at his home. A former carpenter for Princeton Municipal Improvement, he was a member of the Hopewell Methodist Church, Hopewell Lodge 155, F & AM, Scottish Rite and Crescent Temple of Trenton, the Princeton Shrine Club, and Carpenters' Local 781.

The husband of Mrs. Meria C. Moyer, he is also survived by three sons, Edward J. Moyer of Princeton, Job W. Moyer of Plainsboro, and Robert M. Moyer of Rockville, Conn.; a daughter, Miss Ruth M. Moyer of Hopewell; a brother, Llewlyn Moyer of Reading, Pa.; five grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

The service was held in Hopewell, with the Rev. William Kingston officiating. Interment was in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs. Minnie Hutchinson Voorhees, 78, of 14 North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, died January 18 in Merwick. The widow of Alvah C. Voorhees, she was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, Hopewell.

Her survivors include a niece and several cousins. The Rev. John H. Ginter officiated at the funeral, held in Hopewell. Burial was in Ewing Church Cemetery.

Mrs. Frances W. Wolman of 44 Shady Brook Lane died January 20 in Beth Israel Hospital, Miami Beach.

With her husband, Net Wolman, to whom she was married in 1918, she ran the department store bearing their name at 25 Witherspoon Street. The Wolmans sold the business in 1954 and retired, continuing to make their home here.

They had gone to Florida earlier this month to spend the winter. Mr. Wolman was flown home from Florida following a heart attack and is now in a New York hospital.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Wolman is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Stark of Brooklyn, N.Y.; two sisters, Mrs. Ray Applestein of Reddhold and Mrs. Sarah Braveman of Princeton; three brothers, Harry Hurvitz of Princeton, Herman Hurvitz of New York and Samuel Hurvitz of Philadelphia; and three grandchildren. A son, William Wolman, a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy, was killed in action at Okinawa during World War II.

The funeral was held at Riverside Chapel, Brooklyn. Burial was in Beth Israel Cemetery, Woodbridge.

Miss Anna Bradley of 15 Linden Lane died January 22 at her home. Nieces and nephews are her nearest survivors.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, with J. Burwell Harrison reading a Christian Science Service. Burial was in Maplewood Cemetery, Freehold.

Ludwig A. Waiver, 78, of 80 Franklin Parkway, Franklin Park, died January 20 in Princeton Hospital. A farmer who was born in Latvia, he had previously lived in Griggstown.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mildred Waiver; three daughters, Mrs. Wilma Moran of Griggstown, Mrs. Mildred Schopp of Trenton and Mrs. Lillian Waite of Ann Arbor, Mich.; a brother, John of Griggstown and nine grandchildren.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, with the Rev. Edward Schopp of Palmyra officiating. Burial was in Rocky Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Hodnett, 72, died January 21 at her home, 71 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell. Born in Danville, Va., she had lived in Hopewell for 50 years.

Widow of Fred Hodnett, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Novella Carter of Hopewell and Mrs. Lillie Coleman of New York; four sisters, a

PEOPLE In the News

A. N. Spanel of 344 Stockton Road, chairman of the International Latex Corporation of New York, has received the Republic of Bolivia's highest award, the Decoration of Grand Officiale of the Condor of the Andes. The honor was conferred by Juan Lechin, vice-president of the Republic.

The award was prompted by Mr. Spanel's "sympathetic understanding. . .helpfulness. . . and his friendship" for the Bolivian people. Vice-president Lechin said that the economic recommendations that Mr. Spanel presented from 1952 to 1960 were of the utmost importance.

Orren Jack Turner has been elected president of the Professional Photographer's Association of Central New Jersey for the year 1961. In December, the Princeton photographer was honored by the directors who awarded the degree of Associate Fellow in the Association. He is the fourth photographer to receive this degree in New Jersey.

Gordon Knox Jr. of 191 Mountain Avenue has been elected captain of the hockey team at the Wooster School, Danbury, Conn., where he is a senior.

Prof. Oliver Strunk of Princeton University's Department of Music has been awarded a $10,000 prize for distinguished accomplishment in humanistic scholarship by the American Council of Learned Societies. Each year since 1958 the Council has selected the ten humanistic scholars who, in its judgment, have contributed most to knowledge and the pursuit of knowledge in their respective fields. Of the 40 scholars so honored to date, five, including Professor Strunk, are members of the Princeton Faculty. The other four are: Dr. Americo Castro, Emory L. Ford, Professor of Spanish, Emeritus; Dr. Robert R. Palmer, Dodge Professor of History; Prof. Walter T. Stace, Stuart Professor of Philosophy, Emeritus; and Dr. Jacob Viner, Walker Professor of Economics and International Finance, Emeritus.

Formerly Chief of the Division of Music in the Library of Congress, Professor Strunk, who has taught at Princeton since 1937, was awarded the prize for the quality of his contribution to the field of musicology in the United States.

HONORED BY BOLIVIA: A. N. Spanel of 344 Stockton Road has received the Republic of Bolivia's highest award, the Decoration of Grand Officiale of the Condor of the Andes.

William P. Jacobs, associate professor in the Biology Department of Princeton University, has been elected president of the Society for the Study of Development and Growth, the main American society concerning itself with problems of biological development. Named secretary of the society was Armin C. Braun of Ridgeview Road, a professor in the Rockefeller Institute, New York.

Named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" was Nicholas J. Kovalakides of 242 Nassau Street, a senior at the University of Maryland. Students are chosen for this honor on the basis of scholarship; participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; citizenship and service to the school, and promise of future usefulness.

Dr. Benedict B. Scasserra of 164 Nassau Street, president of the New Jersey Chapter, American Academy of General Practice, attended the chapter's ninth annual Scientific Assembly held recently in Atlantic City. Topic of the assembly was "Practical Endocrinology."

Miss Mary Perone of Princeton has been appointed to Mercer County Welfare Board for a five-year term. She took the oath of office from Deputy County Clerk, Raymond A. Dougherty.

Appointed a vice-president with the First National City Bank of New York is Daniel D. Dickey of 93 Mt. Lucas Road. A graduate of Princeton University, Mr. Dickey is with the bank's Mortgage and Real Estate Loan Department.

Thomas E. McNamara, master in English at the Hun School, has published two poems in the 1960 "American Anthology of Poetry" and a ten-page article in the January issue of the National Poetry Association's "Creative Writing" Magazine. The article entitled, "Poetry-in-the-Round," describes a new method originated by Mr. McNamara for teaching poetry. He writes under the name of Thomas Edward Francis.

Princeton composer and music teacher at Littlebrook School, Arno M. Safran, received a performance of his "Quintet for Wind Instruments" at the University of Hartford during its 13th Annual Institute of Contemporary Music. Mr. Safran lives at 190 Bayard Lane.

David A. Cromwell, son of Mrs. Kenneth Cromwell of 43 Park Place, has graduated from the U. S. Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill. He has been assigned to the Navy Fleet Sonar School in Key West, Fla.

Mrs. Cecelia H. Drewry, English teacher at Princeton High School, attended the Speech Association of America convention held in St. Louis. Mrs. Drewry participated in a program featuring works of Southern contemporary writers, reading six poems by John Crowe Ransom.

Taking part in Cornell University's Seventh Annual Management Workshop was George P. Washko, manager of the Nassau Inn. Club and hotel representatives from 14 states heard authorities in the field of hotel and restaurant feeding discuss the different phases of food service.

RECESSION END SEEN

In PB and T Annual Report. A relatively smooth recovery from the current recession is anticipated by George R. Cook, 3rd, president of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, in his annual report issued Tuesday.

"I am inclined to agree with those forecasters who believe that the current economic adjustment is likely to be completed with less interruption to our forward progress than has been the case in previous mild post - war slowdowns," Mr. Cook said. He pointed out, however, that most economists agree that "no major business upturn is to be expected before June, 1961."

Mr. Cook reported that the total resources of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company at the end of 1960 were $38,719,588, an increase of $2,564,098 over 1958. The size of the bank, he noted, has virtually doubled in the past six years. Total resources at the end of 1954 were only $19,474,415.

The current total resources figure includes total deposits of $34,516,143 which exceeds last year's previous all-time high by $1,519,751, or 4.6 percent. Largest increase was in time deposits, which gained in popularity after the shortening of the maturity date on 3 per cent savings certificates from one year to six months.

Net Earnings Set Record. Net earnings of the Princeton Bank in 1960 were $283,540, highest in the bank's history. Cash dividends on the 84,000 shares of capital stock outstanding were $1.40 per share, as compared to $1.25 per share paid in 1959 on 70,000 shares. The 1960 payments included semi-annual dividends of 60 cents each, plus a special year-end dividend of 40 cents a share.

The demand for loans, Mr. Cook said, remained active, and the total outstanding at the end of the year was $14,638,086, or $2,235,966 higher than 1959. The book value of assets entrusted to the bank's Trust Division increased 15.4 percent to a total of more then $80 million, while revenues on these assets were up 28.8 percent.

Further expansion of the bank's facilities will be required in the near future Mr. Cook said. He cited particularly the Princeton Township Branch in the Shopping Center and the Automobile Finance Department, now located in the basement of the Main Office. Consideration is also being given, he reported, to the best means of obtaining electronic mechanization of the bank's various bookkeeping operations.

SON JOINS FATHER

In Real Estate Firm. Ridgely W. Cook has become associated with Edmund Cook and Company, Realtors, of 190 Nassau Street. He is the son of Edmund D. Cook, president of the company.

After graduating from Princeton University's School of Engineering in 1953, Mr. Cook served in the U.S. Army in Army Research and Development at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. For the past four years, he has been a sales engineer, selling and installing electronic control equipment in the Boston area.

Mr. Cook, who lives at 34 Rollingmead with his wife and two children, has been connected with real estate for many years. During his summer vacations in high school and college, he worked for Edmund Cook and Company. In Boston, he was active as a member of the Greater Boston Rental Housing Association and the Instrument Society of America.

FRANCHISES SWITCHED

From South's Garage. The Cadillac and Oldsmobile franchises, held by Frank E. South for over 30 years, were withdrawn last week.

Mr. South, who died on August 18, operated the garage bearing his name for more then 60 years. The repair department will continue to provide its services at the 4 Nassau Street location.

Handling Cadillac and Oldsmobile sales and service for the Princeton area will be Colonial Cadillac and Johnston Oldsmobile, both in Trenton.

OFFICE OPENED

By John T. Henderson. A new real estate office has been opened by John T. Henderson and his associates in the Bowers building at 341 Nassau Street.

Brokers associated with Mr. Henderson are Catherine R. Johnson and Audrey C. Short, with Elizebeth E. Starbuck acting as saleswoman. The entire staff was connected with Mercer-Princeton Realty Company located at 21 Chambers Street.

NEW PLAN OFFERED

By Nassau Fund. An "accumulation plan" is now available to Nassau Fund stockholders, for an investment of $50 monthly, quarterly or as the particlepant wishes. Included in the plan are safekeeping of the investment, and automatic reinvestment in full shares and fractional share credits of all Fund dividends from ordinary income and realized security profits.

The new plan will be handled by tha First National Bank, newly named custodian and agent for the Fund. The bank's charges to the investor will be 50c per investment deposit and 25c per individend re-investment.

Details on the new plan are available at the Fund's office, 10 Nassau Street. Those interested in the Fund's shares may obtain e prospectus there. Incorporated in 1957 with assats of $100,000, the Nassau Fund now has assets of over $2,500,000.

IVY FOOTBALL SHUFFLED

Beginnig in 1961. A reshuffling of the rigid pettern Ivy League football schedules have followed since the circuit became formal in 1956 will take effect in 1961. From a Princeton viewpoint, it will herdly be an improvement.

The Tigers will be confronted by three major changes: fiist, the traditional season-end game with Dartmouth will be advanced to the third Saturdey of the season and will take plece in Hanover. Cornell will come to Palmer Stadium to end the 1964 campaign.

Second, Princeton will go to Providence to play Brown on a home-and-home basis, rather than once every fourth year. Finelly, for the first time since the Tigers began pleying nine games a season—more than 25 years ago—there will be only five contests in Palmer Stadium, with four others on the road.

The major policy switch stems from a number of reasons. Some are traceable to faculty pressure, some are the result of an attempt to eliminate road trips on successive weekends, some frenkly seek bigger gate receipts. Ivy colleges support a much more extensive athletic progrem than most colleges in the U.S., yet have far smaller ticket sales then the "big-time" football factories.

Conflict Exists. The problem that the Ivies have created for themselves is that in putting such rivalries as Princeton-Dartmouth, Princeton-Brown, Harvard-Dartmouth, Yale-Brown, and others on a home-and-home basis, everyone involved will lose money. Faculty pressure at Hanover and Providence sought to keep Dartmouth and Brown teams in the classroom more, and bringing such opponents as the Big Three to those campuses on an alternating basis will achieve it.

The monetary fact, of course, is that crowds of 15-25,000 for Princeton-Brown and 30-40,000 for Princeton-Dartmouth will be replaced by the 8-12,000 gates at Providence and Hanover. Despite the complete absence of other college and professional competition, Brown regularly produces the smallest crowds in the Ivy League.

The dilemma obviously lies in the fact that there is complete logic in the desire of Dartmouth and Brown faculties not to have the football team and several hundred students leave after Thursday classes as often as they do now. The conflict comes in the logical need for maintaining gate receipts at least at the current level — not to build better football teams, of course, but to support such sports as crew, lacrosse, wrestling, squash, golf and others which are not offered by many other large colleges.

From a Princeton viewpoint, then, the change will be anything but welcome. In 1964—and again in '56—the Tigers will open with a non-league opponent (presumably Rutgers); play Columbia in Palmer Stadium and than head for Hanover.

After returning home to face another non-Ivy foe, the team will go to Philedelphia and Providence on successive weekends to meet Penn and Brown. The final third of the season will call for Harvard at Princeton, Yale in the Bowl end Cornell in Palmer Stedium.

Thus according to present plan, from the third Saturday against Columbia until the seventh Saturday against Harverd, no Ivy action will take place in Palmer Stadium. There is a vague possibilty thet Dartmouth might elect to come to Princeton despite its current plan to hold the game at Hanover, but no one here is counting on it.

ACTION TO RESUME

With Hockey Game Saturday. Two of the top hockey teams in the east will be in Baker Rink to mark the end-of Princeton's winter examination period. Boston College faces the Tiger sextet Saturday at 2. With powerful St. Lawrence here Monday night et 8.

Princeton's league-leading basketbell team will play its first game under acting coach Jake McCendless Saturday night at West Point. A better-then-average Army quintet will provide the opposition. Colgate will be in Dillon Gym Tuesday at 8 as the last non-Ivy foe before the all-important game with Pennsylvania on February 4.

Cappy Cappon is still in Princeton Hospital following the heart attack that felled him on January 18. Steady recovery is indicated, but it is doubtful thet he will return to his coaching post this season.

ACTING COACH: Jake McCandless will serve as acting coach of Princeton basketball team during recovery of Cappy Cappon from heart attack. Tigers begin second half of season Saturday.

CRUCIAL GAME NEXT

For Run School Quintet. In an all-important Penn-Jersey League contest, Hun School and Pennington School, both unbeaten in league play, will clash Tuesday afternoon at Pennington. Hun coach Dan Barren reports that his players "will really have their hands full," pointing out that the Red Raiders, picked as the team season, have a tell squad and will be at home in their "match box" gymnasium.

Hun was' able to keep its league record unsullied last week by the narrow margin of two points. Jim Byer's jump shot with less then 30 seconds to play was the culmination of a come-from-behind 60-58 victory over Solebury, the de-tending champions. The game was played on the loser's court.

The turning point for Hun, behind 24-27 at the half, came early in the third period, Barren said. "We used a zone press to great advantage, stole the ball a number of times, and in less than two minutes we had tied the score at 36 all." High scorer for Hun was Jim Byer, who also out-rebounded the entire Solebury team, with 15. Following close behind were Tommy Petrone, 13, and Joy Maynell, 14.

EXAMS HALT LARRIES

Until February 1, Lawrenceville athletic teams, which hung up a 3-3 record last Saturday, will not see action again until Wednesday. On that day, the hockey team will entertain the Princeton Freshmen in a 3:30 p.m. contest, while Larrie swimmers will travel to Dillon Pool for a 4:30 p.m. meet with the Class of 1964.

The basketball team will make its next start on Saturday, February 4, in a game with Blair Academy at Blairstown. The Larrie quintet lost to St. Benedict's, 52-48, at Newark on Saturday, its second loss against four wins.

West Haven High School scored a 6-5 overtime victory over the hockey team on Saturday. It was the third loss in four contests for the Lawrenceville sextet. Varsity fencers absorbed a 10-6 defeat at the hands of Blair Academy, Co-captain Don Dail won three matches to lead the Lawrenceville effort. The fencers are now 2-4 on the season.

On the brighter side of the ledger, the varsity swimming team pushed its record to 3-2 with a 56-30 victory over Mercersburg Academy at Mercersburg, and the JV swimmers crushed Hun School, 66-21.

Pee-Wee Hockey Set

The third annual all-star game between members of the Princeton Pee-Wee Hockey League and their counterparts from northern New Jersey will be held in Baker Rink Saturday at 6 p.m. There is no admission charge.

On March 4 at the same hour, the first interstate contest scheduled for the Pee Wees will be held. The Belmont Hill Pee Wees, Massachusetts state champions, will be here to play Princeton.

The starting lineup for Saturday's game: Ricky Delana, goalie; Tom Chuhet and Roy Coppedge, defense; Coleman Donaldson, center; Gibby Kane and Ford Fraker, wings. Alternates include Rusty Mathews, Kevin Kennedy, Warren Baker, Charlie Sampson, Ferdie Wandelt, Craig Battle, Bill Sayen, Hal Erdman, Sandy Edwards, Evan Donaldson, Bob Ernest and Tom Lea.

Lawrenceville's track team took its third victory in three starts, crushing Blair Academy, 52-16. The Red and Black took five first places and swept four events.

BOWLING NOTES

Prince Laudro Takes Lead. Sweeping three more games last week, Prince Laudro (12) remained undefeated to pace the "B" League in its second week of second half action to highlight Princeton bowling last week. Maul Electric won only one game and was second with eight points. Elsewhere, the Farmers swept three games to jump into first place as the "B" loop opened its second half. Five teams were tied for second with four points each.

Para Lab Supply (68) took three games and opened its margin to four points over Tiger Garage in the Industrial League, with the Reformers (60) running third. Applegate Floral Shop (14) jumped out ahead of Craft Cleaners and Conover Motors, 12 points each, to lead the Women's loop, and the Roses held a one-game edge over the Tots and Scuteratis (30 each) in the Mixed League.

Percy Klatskin rolled the top individual game of the week with 227 in the "A" League. Other high scores included Bill Bathie, 22; Charles Perpetua, 216; Ron Zinsmeister, 214; Larry Andrews, 209; Mike Basile, 205; Frank Delneso and Tony Nini, 204 each, in the "A" loop; Howard McWhorter, 219; Mike Pinelli, 217; Harry Conti, 204; and Joe Baldino, 200, in the "B" League.

Also, Pete Homan, 219; Bill Dumble, 205-206; Bill Kiefer, 207; Hal Frazee, 205; Herbert Ireland, 205; Rudy Lehnert, 202; and Fred Lehnert, 200, in the Industrial loop; and Wilton Rose, 212, in the Mixed League. Julia Marcolini paced the Women's League with 223, followed by Helen Lowe, 201; Millie Train, 195-194; Jean Donald and Sue Fisher, 194 each; and Helen Scott, 189.

Wait'll you see the new look in phone books!

for Trenton and Suburban Trenton

Completely Re-designed Inside and Out—For Quicker, Easier Use

To make phone service even more useful to you—two brand new telephone books are soon to be delivered in your area—one for the State's Capital City and adjoining areas and another for the rapidly-growing communities nearby. These two books replace the present Mercer County Book.

The Trenton telephone directory lists phones in Trenton, Bordentown, Ewing and Hamilton Townships and a part of Lawrence Township.

The Suburban Trenton directory lists phones in Lambertville, Hopewell, Princeton, Pennington, Lawrenceville, Plainsboro, Cranbury, Hightstown and Allentown.

Smart, Modern Cover

The handsome blue and white covers, depicting local landmarks, are attractive and should add a decorator touch next to your phone.

New 10-Page Section of Helpful Calling Information

Inside, you'll find a wealth of easy-to-read, easy-to-find calling information: helpful hints on dialing, information about emergency calls, maps and listings of local and Direct Distance Dialing areas, and many more helpful facts.

Shorter, Handier Listings

These new directories also introduce some shorter Central Office Listings—to make it easier and faster for you to find the numbers you want. They include only the first two letters of the name—followed by the five figures of the number. For example—EXport 2-9970 is shown as EX 2-9970. The directories also include the new seven-numeral telephone numbers for those areas that now have All-Number Calling.

Other Directories Available

If you would like an alphabetical directory covering a nearby area, just call your Business Office.

News Of The CHURCHES

CHURCH SALE PLANNED

By Second Presbyterian. Second Presbyterian Church and its adjoining buildings at Nassau and Chambers Street will be put up for sale within a month. If a good enough offer is received, the buildings will be sold and the church will move to the 10-acre tract on Great Road which was deeded to it more than a year ago by Dean Mathey.

The plan to offer the Nassau Street buildings for sale was approved by the congregation at its annual meeting last week-end. Approval was given on the basis of a report submitted by the New Properties Committee, which had conducted an 18-month study of the situation. George Conover is committee chairman.

The tract of land, part of a 50-acre site owned jointly by Second Presbyterian Church, Miss Fine's School and Princeton Country Day School, was given to the church on the condition that construction begin within 10 years. The current plan is designed to fulfill the terms of the condition.

"This is a real challenge to the people of Second Presbyterian," Mr. Conover said. "There's a definite need for this move, and we are very lucky to have such an opportunity." The move is expected to be made, he said, if sale of the present buildings provides enough money so that the congregation will be able to finance construction of a new church on the Great Road site.

The present buildings will be put on the market following installation of new members of the church's Unicameral Board and Board of Deacons. The Unicameral Board will meet for organization next Tuesday evening and new members of both boards will be ordained and installed at the 11 a.m. service on Sunday, February 5.

BULLETIN NOTES

A chicken and ham dinner, sponsored by the Mothers' Club, will be served Saturday beginning at 12 noon at Morning Star Church of God in Christ, 43 Birch Avenue. Donations will be $1.50 per person.

"Avoiding Tension, Neurosis and Depression" will be the topic of the second of the Unitarian Church lecture series this Sunday at 8 p.m. Speakers will be Dr. Joseph Tobin, director, Bureau of Research in Neurology and Psychology, New Jersey Department of Institutions and Agencies, and Dr. Carl Pfeiffer, neuropharmacologist at the bureau.

Professor Abraham Katsh of New York University will talk on "The Religious Position of Jews, Christians and Moslems in the Soviet Union Today" at the Princeton Jewish Center lecture Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. University students will be admitted free. Tickets for all others will be $1 each.

Third lecture in the University of Life series at Princeton Methodist Church will be given Wednesday, February 1, by Dr. Paul Jones, instructor, Department of Religion, Princeton University. His topic will be "Existentialism's Challenge to Christianity." A covered-dish supper at 6 p.m. will precede the talk.

The Watchung Chancel Players of Bloomfield will present "The Sign of Jonah" next Friday, February 3, at 8 p.m. in Plainsboro Presbyterian Church.

brother, 16 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held in First Born Church of the Living God. Burial was in Ewing Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Hendrickson Matthews, 80, of 177 Library Place, died January 19 at her home after a long illness. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and a charter member and former trustee of Princeton Lodge No. 91, OES.

Her husband, William R. Matthews, who died ten years ago, was the founder and for many years president of Matthews Construction Company, the builder of many Princeton landmarks, including a large number on the University campus.

Mrs. Matthews has no immediate survivors. The Rev. George Mair, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the service, held at the Mather Funeral Home. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Miss Margaret M. Kerr, 60, of 37 Hillside Avenue, died January 23 in Princeton Hospital. A statistician for the United Nations in New York City, she had lived here for 20 years. She was a member of Court Moran 378, Catholic Daughters of America.

Surviving are two brothers, John J. Kerr of Princeton, and Harold J. Kerr of Seattle, Wash., and several nieces and nephews. Requiem high mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. this Thursday at St. Paul's Church. Interment will be in Valatie, N.Y., with arrangements here under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

THE SLUMP GOES ON

PHS Quintet Drops Pair. Still looking for that first win in 1961, the Princeton High School basketball team will play the last of a five straight away games Friday when it tangles with Freehold High School at Freehold. The Little Tigers return home for the first time since January 3 next Wednesday afternoon for a game with Bordentown Military Institute.

The Blue and White are precipitated into its seventh loss in eight outings by South River which buried it, 79-41, with a 68-point scoring barrage in the final three quarters. The two teams had been tied, 11-11, at the end of the first eight minutes of play.

Not one of Coach Tony Borzok's players was able to hit double figures. Jim Norris with eight points was high man for the losers. He was followed by Gil Fisher, Don Truesdell and John Kowalski, each with six.

Last week, PHS lost its sixth game, a lopsided 81-46 decision to Long Branch. High scorer for the losers was Gil Fisher with 12; Tom Kerwin's 38 points paced the victors.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK

With redecorating (accounting for a price low for size and location) this will be a roomy, comfortable home with that special turn-of-the-century charm. 12 rooms (7 bedrooms, 3½ baths), 2 fireplaces, intriguing bow windows, high ceilings give an idea of the space plus appealing touches. Add to that a large lot with fine old trees and a well-fenced pool on a close-to-town quiet street and, even with work to be done it's an unusual West End buy. $17,900.

Space condition and a handsome family room with raised fireplace off the modern kitchen are the high spots of this almost new ranch. Living room, dining ell (can be easily separated), 3 bedrooms and kitchen are all large, as is the finishable play area in the dry basement with plumbing rouched in for a third bath. Patio and flourishing grape arbor are extra touches $42,850.

Near town but completely secluded is this unique and elegant small house on 1½ acres of woods and beautiful, easy-to-maintain landscaping. The details and touches in the house are so fantastic beyond description that we'll just say everything is stunning and go on to essentials. Nurse paneled living room, compact kitchen, two big bedrooms, two baths (one is sensational!) and a drop-down, brick-floored "sitting room" opening onto the terrace make up the living space. For the right people an unusual buy. $57,500.

Excellent in location (a quiet, tree-lined west end street) with a characterful, middle-aged appeal (Rolf Bauhan designed about 25 years ago) and an attractive setting (½ acre with apple trees, shrubbery and seclusion) this new offering is in every way far from run of the mill. Sunny living and dining rooms with French doors, opening on a delightful "sitting out" area, wee den and adequate kitchen make up the first floor. The second has a lovely big master bedroom, two or three others (one with bookshelves can be a study) and two baths. Condition is fine; so are space for a smallish family and location for a commuting or grad school husband. Asking $47,500.

DEAR TRAVELEX,

I hear some of the Rotarians are planning to go to their International Convention in Tokyo this year.

The climate on Honshu is similar to Georgia. The scenery is just beautiful. A lovely coast-line and high snow-topped mountains.

The silks are gorgeous. The little girls have the brightest colored kimonos and when they grow up their kimonos are gradually darker colored and more conservative.

We were invited to dinner at the home of a friend who had octopus tentacles sent in from the islands of Awaji. They were crunchy and good, if you didn't think what you were eating.

Well, seeing and eating different things is the fun of traveling!

As ever,
Nancy

Stereo is in the air... Capture it brilliantly with...

NEW Medalist LINE

Right now many stations are broadcasting glorious music stereophonically, using separate FM and AM channels. Don't miss this new dimension in listening pleasure. EICO's new ST96 has two superb and entirely separate tuners, one for FM, one for AM, mounted on the same chassis:

- Play them together for FM/AM stereo reception
- Play them separately for FM mono or AM mono reception (or both at the same time! Move one speaker into another room, and listen to your favorite programs on FM while other members of the family hear theirs on AM!)
- Plug in FM-Multiplex* adapter for the ultimate in FM stereo broadcasting

Both tuners are capable of providing perfect, distortion-free, drift-free reception; both feature EICO's exclusive, precision, prewired eye-tronic® traveling tuning indicators which contract into exclamation points at the exact center of each broadcast channel . . . And the entire set is easy to build from kit because all the most critical and difficult sections—the AM and FM RF and IF stages, the FM "front end," and the eye-tronic tuning assembly—have been prewired and prealigned at the factory, reducing wiring to a minimum and assuring perfect performance.

*A new kind of stereo broadcasting which will be available in a short time.

See the ST96—and EICO's entire line of Best Buys to meet your every hi-fi need—in kit and wired form—at

TALL STATELY PINES

Its "feeling" is old-fashioned because of its regard for comfort, yet this stone and clapboard house is spacious and brand new. It stands in the midst of two and a half acres, on a cleared rise in a pine grove. The first floor has a wide entrance hall, leading to a gracefully proportioned living room with raised brick fireplace, and a panelled library with open beamed ceiling, formal dining room, well designed kitchen with the latest GE equipment, children's dining room, mud room entrance, laundry and powder room. Upstairs are four light, airy bedrooms, with walk-in closets, and two ceramic tile baths. Under the living room is a "surprise package" room with deluxe log cabin walls, stone fireplace, and definite appeal for the escapist male and his friends, for after dinner relaxation. Random pegged oak floors, hot water baseboard heat, basement and two-car garage, complete this uniquely situated property. $38,500.

One of the important factors in the value of land is position. One of the best times to look at land to judge it, is under adverse weather conditions of winter. Think it over. In the summer when the trees and flowers are out and the ground is dry, a lot of places are nice. When the rain comes, the leaves are down, the beautiful glade can be a problem. If you are thinking of buying next summer, it is a sensible precaution to look the land over now. We have some good farms, residence properties, business investments, real estate and building sites. Rentals are difficult, but we have a few. $85 to $150. Drop in and see us.
